Dear Families,

This week has once again highlighted the enthusiasm with which our students embrace the opportunities available to them.

A particular highlight was the Year 7 Mamma Mia concerts, which took place over two evenings this week. Now a well-established Langley tradition, the performances saw over 200 Year 7 students take to the stage to perform a selection of well-known ABBA hits as a mass choir, alongside a number of impressive vocal and instrumental performances. The commitment, enthusiasm and talent displayed by our newest students were truly remarkable, and we are incredibly proud of all those involved. We look forward to seeing their continued participation in the rich musical life of the school in the years ahead.

Our Sixth Form students have also enjoyed a range of valuable enrichment opportunities this week. Year 12 Politics students visited the Houses of Parliament, gaining first-hand insight into the workings of the UK's democratic system. A-Level Computer Science students attended the Computer Science in Action lectures in London, where they explored topical issues including Generative AI and Cyber Security. Meanwhile, our Year 12 Business students visited both the Bank of England and Canary Wharf, providing an excellent opportunity to deepen their understanding of finance, economics and the modern business environment.

Today, all Year 7 students took part in a study skills workshop delivered by our teaching staff. Students explored a range of effective strategies to help them consolidate learning, revise successfully and prepare confidently for future assessments. Developing strong study habits early is an important part of ensuring students achieve their full potential throughout their secondary education.

As we move further into the winter months, students have been reminded of our uniform expectations. We are grateful for the continued support of parents and carers in ensuring that students wear the correct uniform and wear it appropriately. In particular, scarves should be plain black or navy blue, tights should be plain navy and students are permitted to wear navy knee-length or navy short socks. Please note: white socks are not allowed (other than for PE lessons). Our published uniform policy is available on the school website.

On the topic of school uniform, we were pleased to meet this week with our new provider of school uniform, Price and Buckland to review summer sales, stock levels, returns and the transition to this new provider during the summer. Whilst there are inevitably challenges acquiring sufficient stock levels on all lines in the first couple of months to meet demand (and there were some delays in fulfilling orders), we remain very confident that our supplier will meet the needs of our families and provide value for money. Almost 3,000 items of school uniform were ordered and shipped between July and September and all items are currently in stock, should families be looking to place orders for additional items of school uniform.

On Wednesday 25th November, we will be marking White Ribbon Day, part of the White Ribbon movement which works to end violence against women and girls by encouraging men and boys to be active allies in promoting respect, equality and healthy relationships. Our Feminist Society invites all students and staff to wear a white ribbon as an accessory on the day as a visible sign of support for this important cause. Ribbons will be available to purchase at the school gates for a small donation, and cakes will be on sale in the hall at lunchtime. Students wishing to support the event are reminded to bring cash to school.

Finally, we are looking forward to welcoming students from our partner school in Tenerife to LPGS next week as part of our ongoing international partnership programme. We would like to thank all of the host families and students who have volunteered to support the visit. We know that this exchange will provide a memorable and enriching experience for everyone involved.

With very best wishes and thanks for your continued support

Bromley Healthcare Asthma Webinar

Bromley Healthcare is developing a new asthma service for children and young people aged 3–17 years who have asthma or are suspected to have asthma. We want to give parents and carers the opportunity to help us shape the service around what children, young people and families really need. We are inviting you to join a friendly online event where you can:

- Hear about our plans for the new asthma service
- Share your experiences of asthma care in Bromley
- Tell us what works well and what could be improved
- Help us understand what support would be most useful for families
- Ask questions and share your ideas

Our aim is to make it easier for children and young people to get the right asthma care and support closer to home, including assessment, diagnosis, advice, education and ongoing support.

Your experience matters. By joining the session, you can help us develop a service that works well for children, young people and their families across Bromley. Sign up here: https://forms.cloud.microsoft/e/ndWSizbExa
